Hello there and welcome to the Foxtrot, your source for all things Marist Athletics. I'm Mitchell Xanders. On today's program we'll take a look at an important home finale for the women's basketball team, while the women's lacrosse team and water polo teams play their first home games. We'll also give you an inside look at the Red Fox Network.

(Take Cam 3)

We'll start on the hardwood as the women's basketball team took home court for the final time this season. The Red Foxes hoping to enter the MAAC tournament on a high note with a win over the Niagara Purple Eagles.

(Take VOS - BS1)

-- Marist senior Kendall Baab being honored at Senior Night before the game in front of a packed McCann Arena.

--On the first possession of the game, Jamie Sherburne finds an open look to put Niagara up 3-0. Part of a 9-point effort for Sherburne.

--Later in the first quarter Alana Gilmer looking for and finding Rebekah Hand who sends the triple down the well. 3 of Hand's 16. Marist down 14-12.

--The Purple Eagles start to pull away midway through the second as Kharysma Bryant hits the floor and the shot. She only missed one shot all game. Niagara up 36-28 at half.

--The Red Foxes kept fighting. Maura Fitzpatrick looking like Mike White with a deep ball to Grace Vander Weide. Gilmer puts it home. She finished with a game-high 20 points.

--But it was Marist's 22 turnovers that spoiled their day. Allie Best gives it up and Bryant gets her 15th points of the game as Niagara upsets Marist 68-61.

-- The women's water polo team played their first home game of the regular season as part of the Marist Invitational Water Polo tournament. Four other schools came to McCann Natatorium, including Marist's first foe, the Brown University Bears.

(Take VOS - BS2)

-- Marist entered the game with only two wins thus far, including an 11-8 win against the Bears earlier in the season.

-- First quarter, Katherine Tijerina finds Anais Matthews for the laser goal to put Marist up 1-0 early.

-- Second quarter, Brown looking for a response. They'd find it in the form of a Jessica Heilman deep score to nod it up at one apiece.

-- But just seconds later the Red Foxes claim the lead right back. Diana Carballo serves one up on a silver platter for Ariana Singer to make it 2-1.

-- Marist would rattle off four goals in a row and thanks to some stout defense both on the ball and in the net, would shut down the Bears for the rest of the game.

-- Goalie Jessica Hermosillo notches her fourth straight game with at least seven saves as Marist wins their home opener, 6-3.

-- Elsewhere on campus, women's lacrosse playing host to UMass in their season opener at Tenney Stadium.

--Paul Revere must've given an inspiring speech in the visitor locker room because the Minutewomen came out in an all out attack.

--On the opening possession Cassidy Doster scores the first of her 4 goals and the next time down it's Holly Turner with the scamper and score in front of the net. She led all players with 7 points.

--UMass scored the game's first 7 goals and led at half 10-4 thanks in large part to Kiley Anderson. The 6'3" junior dominated one of the nation's best in the center circle, Marist's Hailey Wagner, winning 8 draw controls and dictating possession all game long.

--The Red Foxes found some spark in the second half. Lauren Mazza with 1 of her 4 goals on the night on the free position shot.

--It wasn't enough though as Red Foxes suffered their first loss of the season, 19-10.

Crewed entirely by Marist students, the Red Fox Network provides live coverage of Marist sports, weekly packages, and a behind-the-scenes look at the student-athletes at Marist College.

(Take VOS - BS1)

Over the past few years, the network has experienced a growth in not only student involvement, but in resources as well. Thanks to a new partnership with ESPN, the Red Fox Network is afforded state-of-the-art equipment and coverage for all events.
